Next-generation professionals

Welcome from the CEO and Gen. Counsel of the Board of Standards of the American Academy of Financial Management AAFM™.

Professional development is undergoing a revolution the world over. We're learning through new methods of teaching pedagogy and through very pragmatic development styles, that we can distill key skills and new strategic thinking to professionals much quicker than traditional methods assume. While some in the business simply offer proprietary training, the AAFM was established largely by graduate professionals and experts from the 'real world' by developing accreditation, graduate and certification standards.

Rather than create a broad, all encompassing financial designation such as those for 'financial analysis' or 'financial planning', the AAFM has taken a research based approach to our charter and certification structures and created specialist designations for a wide range of careers in the finance sector and for finance professionals in enterprise. Each designation is targeted at a specific skill-set required to perform a role in the finance domain with world-class expertise. As such, AAFM approved certification degree and training program and enrolment requirements ensures that each AAFM professional maintains the highest standard of demonstrated capability in their area of proficiency. Key advancements for AAFM have been made in the last 10 years. We have expanded our operations globally with new offices in the EU, Middle-East, China, Latin America, Africa and throughout Asia. Our Founding Parent Entity, The AAFM Board of Standards USA is based in the Americas, and AAFM is still growing rapidly with increased disclosures, listings or recognition with top educational & certification authorities such as: the US Department of Education, US Dept. of Labor, Capital Markets Authorities, Ministries of Finance, United Nations Civil Society, and other international agencies.

Graduate applications for our MFP™ core qualification are possible through more than 500 of the world's leading government recognized business schools as a result of our mutual articulation agreements with AACSB International and ACBSP Accreditation Agencies. Member growth is accelerating with AAFM Members & Fellows in over 150 countries as of the time of printing. Our fastest growing regions are China, the Middle-East, South Asia, and India at this time, with several hundred members joining each month through our providers in New York, Cairo, Beijing, Singapore, India, Hong Kong, UK, Africa, India, Mexico, and elsewhere. Corporate players like Reuters, UBS, HSBC, Kaplan, BISYS, The TJSL Law School, Half of the top 10 banks in the world, INFORMA, and others have been of great assistance in establishing a strong reputation as a key player in the International sector. The 2003 opening of our Offices in Singapore is one of the steps we've taken to support this exciting demand in the EU, India, Asia, The Middle East region and beyond.

I welcome you to the AAFM. Each year you maintain your membership in the Academy, the value of your certification and masters designations grows. However, the best way for our network to grow is through word of mouth. Make sure you use your designation and the AAFM mark at every opportunity. Be proud of your certification from the AAFM Board and Council, it makes you one of the next-generation of global leaders.

Together we are truly "Building the world's future Leaders in Management™"

Sincerely and Kindest Regards

Prof. George Mentz JD, MBA, CWM, CPM, CAM, CMA, MFP

Getting Started

When you've completed an AAFM™ Accredited and Qualified training program and been accepted for status as a Certification Holder in the American Academy you will receive the following items:

1. Designation Certification
2. Fellowship Declaration Certification
3. AAFM Handbook (this document)
4. Login credentials for the Members website
5. Access to AAFM Member network
6. Publication of your Name in the Global Verification Database

This handbook provides an introduction to the American Academy and answers some questions you might have. In addition, the full code of ethics and standards of practice are contained, along with information about how to contact the AAFM.

- Secure online USA Verification System available for those who want a public listing with the AAFM Database. AAFM Member ID card is available in digital format for printing and use. Sample Above or you can purchase an ID from a Chapter and Member-Toolkit Provider.

Questions new AAFM™ candidates ask.

It is likely that this document will be the first of the components of the membership documents that you receive, so below are some of the standard questions that our new members normally ask about the American Academy and membership.

Q. How long before I receive my official designation or board certification document ?

A. Certification Document processing normally takes a minimum of 6-8 weeks. You receive handsome membership document along with the certification document that you have been qualified and approved to receive.

Q. When can I start to use my designation?

A. Immediately after approval, AAFM applicants receive confirmation of the acceptance of your membership or you have successfully registered for certification after completing a qualified and recognized executive program.

Q. What are the requirements for membership as an ‘Associate’?

A. If an individual working in the finance industry or as a financial professional has one of the following qualifications, you may immediately qualify for status as an Associate or Candidate Member:

- (a) An AACSB or ACBSP Financial Related Degree
- (b) Enrolled in an Approved AAFM Program or Ongoing Program
- (c) Academic Researchers, Industry Experts, and Professors.

Q. What are the requirements to receive an AAFM professional certification or designation?

A. The primary method of certification in the USA is the completion of a recognized AAFM training program through the qualified programs of the: AACSB, ACBSP or one of our other numerous Executive training providers. * AACSB and ACBSP related programs automatically qualify persons only for MFP Core Certification. Further executive training, experience, education, and approval qualifies the applicant to register for other Graduate Certifications. In exceptional circumstances primarily in the USA, the AAFM Board of Standards may offer exemption from course and assessment criteria for Graduate Certification. Board review is required for advanced standing qualifications, but the following are some of the criteria for exemption status:

- (a) An AACSB or ACBSP Financial Related Graduate Degree, or EQUIS or ABA Degree
- (b) Vast Professional experience or Recognized Industry Expert (*As per Board Policy)
- (c) MBA/MASTERS or Law Degree, PhD, or CPA, Recognized Graduate Designations, & specialization work,
- (d) Professors and Academic Researchers (Professor/Doctorate Level)

Q. How is the AAFM Structured?

A. The AAFM is a graduate professional organization governed by a Board of Standards and a membership code of ethics and standards of practice. The AAFM is a legally chartered and limited liability entity founded and operated in the USA. Some chapters act as a ‘society’ or non-profit association, with the members of the local or regional chapter making up the ‘owners’ of the chapter. At all times the AAFM and the good standing of members is subject to the laws of the land and to policies of the Board of Standards. The Academy’s authority and certifications are structurally based the dictates of the US Supreme Court case (Ibanez vs. Florida and the Peel Case) and these cases also illustrates the general regulations and policy of the AAFM marks in respect to it’s members.

Q. How and when was the AAFM founded?

A. The AAFM was founded in 1996, via a merger between the American Academy of Financial Management & Analysts (AAFMA) and the Founders Advisory Committee of the Original Tax and Estate Planning Law Review. The AAFMA was originally established as a professional organization for investment managers, lawyers, and analysts. The Law Review was founded to examine strategic wealth and estate planning issues for Law, CPA, and MBA graduates and to award the financial and tax designations. The merger of these two entities provided a cross-discipline association, a laser focus on industry specialization, a high-level product line of training and graduate-level-certification opportunities, and a strong reach to a mature membership platform.

Q. How many members are in the American Academy of Financial Management?

A. The AAFM has grown quickly and as of 2007-9 recognized over 20,000 PhDs, Lawyers, MBA's, CPAs, AACSB Graduates, & Masters Degree Holders as executive members in over 151 nations. AAFM takes pride in holding a membership with superior qualifications, experience, and designations. The AAFM has stated that it wishes to grow that membership to 50,000 by the end of 2010 and current growth is tracking against that objective.

Q. What are the benefits of being a member of the AAFM?

A. The key benefit for Certification Holders is obviously the ability to add a professional designation & post-nominal to your list of resume qualifications and display this on your business card, letter head, email signature, C.V. etc. For most individuals certification is one of the key drivers of membership and the pursuit of higher education through the AAFM accepted programs. However, other key benefits exist such as:

- i) Access to one the Top Graduate Financial professional networks around the globe,
- ii) Access to the AAFM body of knowledge including articles, scorecards, calculators, simulators and other tools available exclusively to AAFM members online,
- iii) An online system that may confirm your membership and certification to employers or other interested parties.
- iv) Access to the AAFM Global Jobs Systems Online
- v) Opportunities to network with charter holders and members throughout the world
- vi) Global Conferences and Networking Events www.aafm.us
- vii) Identical qualification received as those received by a graduate of a top-US business school program (in the case of the MFP offered to AACSB ACBSP members), and
- viii) Recognition by alliance partners, corporate sponsors or multiple government bodies

Q. How can the American Academy of Financial Management offer professional awards from an executive program, that others claim should take years of study to achieve?

A. AAFM only offers Board Certification, Charter or Designation qualifications to individuals with a minimum graduate education requirement of professional working experience or industry expertise. AAFM is the First to require double-accredited education and exams. While some organizations offer non-college educated applicants immediate entry into 'certified' training programs, the AAFM requires all professionals seeking to attain a specialist designation to have actual college education and working experience. Many of our contemporaries have a single qualification that focuses on financial accounting or insurance-financial planning sales issues, The American Academy of Financial Management has specifically designed specialist designations curriculums targeted to the role of the professional in an international role, and has chosen to eliminate broader subject material so that just the core requirements for best-practice, multi-national employment are met. In this way, we have reduced program timeframes to essential skills, rather than overkill on the broker and insurance salesman subject matter our members are likely to never require in real life applications. Further, the majority of our graduate members already have an earned or accredited MBA, CPA, Law Degree, PhD or other where they have passed a multitude of graduate exams that cover the fundamentals and theory from accredited colleges already.

Finally, AAFM does not typically run programs over many years or months, instead choosing to allow candidates to matriculate through a highly focused and rigorous executive program conducted by world-class experts in an "executive fast track" format that allows specialization. While other programs can be done over years, we believe in shorter qualification times for those who already have degrees, licenses, and expertise etc will bring a quality return on training investment.

Proper and ethical use of AAFM™ designations

To add an AAFM post-nominal or certification to your business card or your resume requires you receive a recognized ‘award’, as such there are two specific types of awards available:

- i) Academic Award, such as an MBA, PhD, MSc, etc, and
- ii) Board Certification or Professional Award: CWM™, CRA™, CAM™, CPM™, etc

For the American Academy of Financial Management to issue its members with a Professional Award, each designation or mark is a registered Service Mark or Trademark (and copyrighted or trademarked in other countries around the world.) This means that the marks or designations are owned by the American Academy of Financial Management™ and members must comply with proper use regulations as contained below.

AAFM designations must be used appropriately if the Academy is to maintain control of their use and ensure that our high standards are adhered to. For the purpose of this discussion, we will use the Entry and Core AAFM qualification of MFP or “Master Financial Professional” as an example.

The MFP™ or Any AAFM™ mark must always be used as a Board Certification or Designation. Wherever possible, the full designation title should be used such as follows:

John Smith, CWM™
Chartered Wealth Manager™, or

John Smith CRA, Chartered Risk Analyst™

AAFM™ marks should not be used in the plural or in the possessive. If used in the abbreviated form, wherever possible use the trademark symbol next to the designation, such as:

CWM™ or CRA™

In communication regarding your designation you may state that you are a “Fellow (Graduate Certification Holder) (Fellows are not given the designation but are awarded the right to use the AAFM designation by the Academy. Fellows can use their designation along with the fellowship mark as follows:

John Smith MBA, CWM, CPM, (FAAFM) MFP Mas. Fin. Prof.

John Smith, CPM
Chartered Portfolio Manager™,
Fellow of the American Academy of Financial Management

The AAFM™ Standards of Professional Conduct limits the use of the AAFM designations only to those who have received their Board Certification or charter documents and requires that such marks be used only in a dignified and judicious manner. The board of standards has previously stated that it is “...the responsibility of members, fellows, and candidates of AAFM Programs to use Certification marks or designations or refer to their membership in the Academy properly, professionally and in a manner that does not mislead third parties as to their affiliation with the Academy or the legal standing...” If you have applied for exemption status or advanced standing and you have not received your designation, you can not make use of the AAFM mark or the designation. Additional information regarding the proper and ethical use of AAFM designations can be found on the AAFM website www.aafm.us or www.financialanalyst.org or by contacting the AAFM USA Legal offices.

Certifications, Masters Designations, Charters and proper use of credentials

You will be provided with two Official Documents upon completion of an AAFM designation carrying qualification. They are:

1. Membership Charter
2. Designation Board Certification (including fellow status)

The AAFM Quality Certification Documents can be displayed in plain view either mounted separately or together. The Certification, Membership & fellowship certification can only be displayed if you are in Good Standing with the Academy and you are recorded on the AAFM member register as a current member. US, Latin American and North American members receive the type of certification above. The approved official documents are more secure with even greater quality control.

Continuing Education Requirements

Annually, each AAFM charter holder and board certification holder should complete 15 hours or more of continuing education CE credits. Contained below is a list of education that counts toward CE credits with the AAFM. 15 hours would be equivalent to a 2 day seminar or conference event. Members receive 1 point or credit for 1 equivalent hour of recognized training.

Members may complete one of the below or a combination to fulfill their annual requirements.

1. The AAFM Approved Conference counts for full CE Credit. This is an approved 1-2 day conference or seminar event that counts for 15 hours.
2. Attendance of 15 or more hours of approved education for lawyers or CPAs. (2 days of training)
3. 15 Hours of executive education from an Approved Provider or AACSB , ABA, EQUIS, or ACBSP accredited business school approved program (i.e. or one full graduate course would count)
4. Publish an article in the AAFM Articles Journal or Qualified Peer Reviewed Journal
5. Attend one of our Global Wealth Management Conferences or Summits, or
6. Attend an AAFM recognized training program.
7. Led a training course or taught a course or program in your field. 1 hour = 3 Credits

Either email verify@financialanalyst.com or post a record of your attendance to the CE section of the Members website. Note: First year Exemption is available to new members. Fellows in their first year of membership are exempt from the CE requirements. CE must be done from the second year of fellowship only.

Certification Fees and Good Standing:

AAFM Certification and Professional Designation applicants pay initial certification and graduate fees. Good Standing fees are set by the board. In the United States, each applicant pays the initial certification and membership fee as set by the Board. After the initial membership and certification time period as stated on the actual certification or charter document, the member is expected to renew their designation and complete the required continuing education and ethics requirements. Sometimes, the approved educational institution collects the fees and processes membership and certification for the Board of Standards. In other cases, eligible applicants apply directly to the board on a “one-by-one” basis and make registration payment online.

Exams and Accreditation

AAFM™ Approved Providers and Trainers

The AAFM accredits or approves a limited number of training providers in each market it operates in. Typically 4 or 5 partner Universities are chosen per country (with the exception of double accredited AACSB and ACBSP registered business schools for MFP Core Qualification program). Each accredited provider must demonstrate to the AAFM Board that they have the capability to offer the highest standard of training consistent with AAFM curriculum and requirements, and the status of these providers is reviewed on an annual basis to ensure that quality standards are maintained.

The AAFM encourages localization of course materials for each respective region and country. As a result, administration and trainers for local AAFM courses are eligible to conduct courses, but they first must attain board certification or approval as AAFM faculty. Alternatively, the AAFM arranges for certified and experienced lecturers to conduct training programs in various locations around the world. Experienced lecturers come from: The USA, EU, Hong Kong, Singapore, Australia or other mature financial sector markets.

Examinations

Examinations and assessment are currently provided as part of the course framework of an AAFM registered or accredited training program, such as: Executive Programs provided by partner universities or world-class training companies. However, the AAFM does supply course providers with the standard exam criteria or TCO “Terminal Course Objectives”, which are then localized to allow for regional regulatory conditions, taxation requirements and other market specific situations.

Examinations are provided in the lingua-franca of the country where AAFM candidates are participating in the program. English Exams are not mandatory, as we wish to make the AAFM sponsored and recognized membership and education accessible to as many qualified individuals as possible.

Moving towards 2010, the assessment committee intends to centralize examinations with a local and international component to the examination program. Core programs will be the first to qualify for global assessment, with specializations being assessed through course framework as currently performed.

AAFM™ Board of Standards Accreditation Council

The Global Board of Standards and Honorary Advisors for AAFM Board has been traditionally composed of 50 member professionals including faculty from several universities, financial executives and managers, lawyers, judges, and world renowned financial practitioners. 10 Doctorate level professionals sit on our academic committee overseeing standards and ethics. AAFM was begun by executives, financial professionals, lawyers, and faculty to provide specialized financial education and certification worldwide through the use of executive training. AAFM's Board of Standards is a professional oversight committee that creates the standards for membership, requirements for board certifications, policies for ethics and methods to increase professionalism. AAFM owns the intellectual property, copyrights, designations, and marks used herein. The Accre

*The AAFM Super Board of Standards is responsible for the administrative decisions for the Global Certification and Training Operations. Based on the advice of our legal committee, AAFM strives to maintain educational flexibility & strategic advantage for expansion; thus, the AAFM as a Board of Standards has always been registered and remained a Limited Liability Company registered in the United States.

AAFM™ Accreditation Council

The AAFM International Board of Standards and Honorary Advisors also serve as provincial counselors and commissioners to the International Board of Standards – Accreditation Council. The accreditation council helps decide which educational institutions are accredited, sanction or recognized as “REGISTERED” by the AAFM and International Board of Standards IBS.

The Council also decides which credentials, designations, charters and certifications will be nominated for approval and global use. The Global Board and Council also have the power to nominate new members for recognition and nominate organizations for alliances.

Global Board of Academic Advisors & Professors

These distinguished advisory board members are not faculty of AAFM. The majority of professors listed here are recipients of The AAFM honorary distinguished global advisors award, who retain teaching posts or have taught at a tertiary level for respected colleges and institutions around the world. Others have demonstrated exemplary industry knowledge or technical specialty in their field of endeavor and have been recognized by industry as amongst the pre-eminent professionals in their domain arena.

Alliances and Official Recognition

AAFM™ Worldwide and Global Recognition

The American Academy of Financial Management™ is an independent worldwide graduate society of financial professionals. We are a global self-regulatory organization that recognizes the highest in educational, experience, ethical, and continuing education standards as dictated by the Supreme Court decision on financial designations and board certifications.

AAFM™ is also the first Global Financial Organization to orchestrate a direct recognition policy and articulation agreement to the AACSB™ International and ACBSP Accreditation Agencies for obtaining the AAFM MFP Master Financial Professional Credential. Appendix B – AAFM Facts and Details

USA - Hong Kong – New Orleans – Athens – Singapore – Dubai – Beijing and More

Formation and History

The American Academy of Financial Management was founded in 1996, as a result of a merger between the American Academy of Financial Management & Analysts (AAFMA) and the Founders Advisory Committee of the Original Tax and Estate Planning Law Review. The AAFMA was originally established in as a professional organization for investment managers, lawyers, and analysts. The Law Review was founded to examine strategic wealth and estate planning issues for Law, CPA, and MBA graduates and to award the financial analyst and tax and estate planning designations. AAFM currently recognizes over 20,000 PhDs, Lawyers, CPAs, MBAs, AACSB, ACBSP Graduates, & Masters Degree Holders as executive members in over 151 nations. AAFM takes pride in holding a membership with superior qualifications, experience, and designations.

AAFM™ established its first chapter overseas in the year 1999, but from that point the membership has quickly grown to cover over 151 separate nations. Those members are supported through offices in LA, Athens, SF, Hong Kong, UK, Philippines, Beijing, Cairo, and Monterrey. New offices have recently been opened throughout the EU, Middle-East, India, Africa, and parts of Asia, including Australia. Our new offices are in Beijing and Singapore

AAFM Structure and Authority

The AAFM™ has seen a meteoric rise to affluence and membership in recent years, as financial executives, managers, and degree holders strive to maintain and augment their education, credentials, integrity, and skill sets.

The AAFM Board of Standards™ is the regulatory body for the much sought after AAFM Designations and Credentials. AAFM Executive Designation Programs provides the assurance that the holder has met the suggested criteria for graduate credentials set out in the Ibanez US Supreme Court Decision. Further, the AAFM board certification requires passing 6 different levels of standards including: College Education, Testing, Ethics & Professionalism, Degree, Experience, & Continuing Education. Acceptance into the AAFM™ is a high distinction and requires the holder to possess a graduate level portfolio of skills and knowledge. Acceptance statistics are not high, and the designation when achieved is a high honor strictly for those who have earned a college education.

AAFM Regulation

The American Academy of Financial Management is governed by a vendor-neutral independent professional Super Board. The AAFM Board of Standards is made of appointments from amongst the professional, academic and industry pool of membership and currently includes Professors, Doctorate Holders, and Professionals from the Finance & Business sectors worldwide. Board Members nominated are typically recognized because of their outstanding contribution to the Industry or to best practice principles in the field of professional education. Board Members retain their board position for a period of two years, in which time the Super Board is responsible for the following high level actions:

1. Regulation of the issuance and use of any Certification, Member Document, Content, Exams or other IP.
2. Approval of new AAFM college providers or any training partners.
3. Approval and oversight of curriculum and examination requirements globally
4. Policy and standards development for the AAFM Code of Ethics and Charter documents.
5. Regulation of member behavior and action for breach of the AAFM code of ethics.
6. Approval of new chapters in developing member markets

AAFM Mission Statement
